

Ask yourself

“What good is the money, if I won't be around to enjoy it?”

Be safe

All the people involved with the ACSA and SCSA, from the origin of the idea to the present, share a common vision: through cooperative efforts of all those involved, the construction environment in Alberta and Saskatchewan will be the safest anywhere.

That's the questions
we asked ourselves...

...we are a group of voluntary members whose key objectives are providing construction safety training and administration of the Certificate of Recognition (COR) Program primarily in the form of education, training, information and resource material to our members; managers, supervisors and workers. We are the Lloydminster (Lakeland) Regional Safety Committee (LRSC).

Volunteers

The LRSC is comprised of industry leaders that help to organize and update any and all safety related issues within the construction and building industry. Our membership is based on volunteers and is open to new members and encourages individuals and organizations to get involved.

The Alberta Construction Safety Association (ACSA) and Saskatchewan Construction Safety Association (SCSA) are non-profit organizations funded and directed by industry. The Associations consist of construction industry volunteers supported by a team of professionals based out of offices in Edmonton, Calgary, Ft. MacMurray, Saskatoon and Regina.
